

Pet Consent Form

During a session, which can vary in length and is entirely dependent on your companion animal, I will gently place my hands on or above the animal noting any sensations or imbalances to assess the energy field. Reiki transcends time and space, so if an animal has been abused or for any reason unable to have me touch them, I can assess and send Reiki Healing Energy from across the room. There is a high likelihood that the animal will experience the relaxation response during the session. Usually, you will see a dog yawn, a cat switch its tail, etc. I will have soft inspirational music playing and silence should be observed throughout the session. In the normal course of a session, your pet will know when they have received sufficient energy and will simply walk away when done. A feedback discussion follows the session. Please have fresh, purified water available for your pet after the session.
